Dear Lee,

I just wanted to tell you how impressed I am with Bio Net Worth and their products. As I mentioned to you, I get exposed to countless health and fitness products, and although nearly all of them have some merit, there are very few that I have found are "The Real Deal". Frankly, I had the same skepticism when I was approached to try BionX. For the last month, I've been taking BionX, and all I can say is WOW! The benefits I am experiencing are amazing! I can now say most assuredly, that BionX IS the "Real Deal", so much so, that I'm spreading the word to everyone that will listen. The reaction that I've gotten so far from the people that I've introduced to Bio Net Worth Products, are getting the same fantastic results that I've been experiencing. To a person, everyone is telling me that not only is their morning stiffness diminished and in many cases completely gone, but they're also experiencing a new sense of well being, and much increased energy. I can see why Bio Net Worth's clients have won so many major sporting events, and I am telling ALL of my PGA Tour Professionals, friends, and students about it. Truly there is nothing more beneficial to a person, than to feel "good". This is without compare the best product that I've ever seen.

The bottom line for me is that the products work and it is clear there is nothing else on the market that compares. Along the same lines, I must say that that this product is the easiest Sell that I've ever seen. Virtually everybody over the age of 40 experiences some sort of aging, and when I tell them about the anti aging properties, and the morning stiffness relief qualities of BionX, the reaction is pretty much one of a feeding frenzy, in that the people want it so bad – and they want it NOW!

Thanks again. I will be opening the flood gates so I hope you are ready to work!

Best regards,

Roger Fredericks
